Roll No. .....

MAI–203

M. B. A. (AI & DS) (SECOND SEMESTER)

END SEMESTER EXAMINATION, July/Aug., 2022

HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

Time : Three Hours

Maximum Marks : 100

Note : (i) This question paper contains two Sections-Section A and B

(ii) Both Sections are compulsory.

(iii) Answer any two sub-questions among (a), (b) and (c) in each main question of Section A. Each question carries 10 marks.

(iv) Section B consisting of case study is compulsory. Section B is of 20 marks.

Section—A

1. (a) Why is it correct to say that all managers are involved in the HRM function ? Justify this statement. (CO4)

(b) Outline the steps involved in manpower planning and how can you plan for human resources in an effective manner. (CO5)

(c) Highlight - Job design with its different techniques and examples. (CO2)

P. T. O.

2. (a) What is Job analysis ? Explain with details what goes into job description and job specification. (CO1)

   (b) Managerial development is different from training. Explain any three methods of managerial development. (CO4)

   (c) Discuss - Stages in Data analytics and why HR analytics is different from HR metrics. (CO3)

3. (a) Elaborate the significance of Training and the ADDIE process with each step. (CO2)

   (b) Bring out the various facets of HR Analytics in Recruitment and Selection and T and D, with its impact. (CO4)

   (c) Detail out each of the steps involved in Selection/Hiring process. (CO1)

4. (a) Explain the merits of internal and external recruitment. (CO3)

   (b) How does effective compensation package help an organization achieve its strategic goals ? Discuss. (CO5)

   (c) How does career planning and succession planning take place in an organization ? Elucidate. (CO4)

Section—B

5. Case study-based questions :

Case Study

As the Marketing Manager for Sweeny Electronics, Natisha was generally well regarded by most of her subordinates. Natisha was an easy going individual who tried to help her subordinates in any way she could. If a worker needed a small loan until payday, she would dig into her pocket with no questions asked.

Should a subordinate need some time off to attend to a personal problem, she would take up the slack herself until the subordinate returned.

Everything had been going smoothly at least until the last performance appraisal period. One of Natisha's consistently high performer, super talented subordinate Bill Johnson had been experiencing a large number of personal problems for the past year. Bill's wife has been sick much of the time, and her medical expenses were high. Bill's son had a speech impediment and the doctors had recommended a special clinic. Bill, who had already borrowed the limit the bank would loan, had become upset and despondent over his circumstances.

When it was time for Bill's performance appraisal, Natisha decided she was going to do as much possible to help him. Although Bill could not be considered more than an average worker (rating 3.5 /5) Natisha rated him very good (rating 4.25/5). The firm's compensation system was heavily tied to performance appraisal. So now Bill would be eligible for 100% payment for PLI (Performance linked incentives) and increase of 10% increment, hike in revised salary as well. Natisha explained to Bill why she was giving him such a high rating and Bill acknowledged that his performance had really been no better than average. Bill was very grateful and expressed this to Natisha. As Bill left office, he was excitedly looking forward to telling his work buddies about what a wonderful and supportive boss Natisha was. Separately, Natisha had also prepared herself to defend the case of Bill should it be questioned by her boss, Joseph (DGM-Marketing).

(i) Discuss - would you justify the decision taken by Natisha and why ? (CO6)

(ii) Elaborate on appraisal as part of PMS and bring out its significance. (CO2)